

"Thanks For Your Donation" ~ An 8 minute film about mining company "philanthropic" donations to University of British Columbia

- View: <https://vimeo.com/131378801>

"Thanks for Your Donation" follows the money trail from the University of British Columbia's corporate donations, to their origins in rural Latin America. A group of UBC student film-makers speak with university professors, students, and activists from around the world to uncover how donations from Canadian mining companies (like Goldcorp and Pan-American Silver) arrive at the university's doorstep. The film attempts to unveil the global impacts of these corporate profits, on their journey to UBC. "Thanks for Your Donation" exposes multifaceted, troubling realities associated with the Canadian extractive industry, and what UBC's acceptance of this money means for our collective responsibility and indirect participation in human rights abuses abroad.
